NOTE IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS OF PENNA. FOR 1939

Dept of Internal Affairs Reports Advance in Manufacturing

VERY SUBSTANTIAL ADVANCE WIDE-SPREAD AS COMPARED WITH THE PREVIOUS YEAR

By Raymond Wilcock
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10—(INS)—A substantial improvement in business in Pennsylvania, notably in manufacturing, during the year just ended was reported today by the Department of Internal Affairs and the Department of Labor and Industry.

"The improvement in manufacturing during 1939 as compared with the year previous was substantial and quite widespread," revealed Henry W. Van Pelt, chief statistician of the Department of Internal Affairs.

There was also a "very substantial" improvement in employment, he added, and while the payroll for the state as a whole did not substantially increase, the average wage did.

A bright picture of improved business was also presented by the Department of Labor and Industry, based upon the reports of 10,000 firms representative of all phases of industry in Pennsylvania.

A 16.6 per cent increase in payrolls was noted for 1939, exclusive of December, for which reports were not yet available. When the December reports were in, it was felt, the increase would be even more noticeable.

During the same period of 1939 employment increased 1.6 per cent over 1938, while average weekly earnings rose from $24.06 to $25.79, a 7.2 per cent improvement.

This increase in business was even sharper during the latter half of 1939, the Department of Labor and Industry revealed.

From July through November payrolls increased 12.7 per cent over the first half of 1939, while employment rose 6.1 per cent. The average weekly earning went up from $25.32 to $26.36, a 4.1 per cent increase.

Among the industries reporting to the Department of Labor and Industry that of manufacturing made the best showing during 1939. Payrolls increased 19.1 during the first 11 months of 1939 in comparison to 1938; employment went up 7.2 per cent, and weekly earnings increased from $22.39 to $24.88, a 11.6 per cent rise. Construction and retail industries showed a falling off during the first half of 1939, but an increase in business during the succeeding five months.

Another factor in the improved business outlook during 1939 was the case during the year in building. From December 1938 through November 1939, the number of building permits issued in 190 municipalities of the state increased from 37,267 to 43,396, or a 16.6 per cent increase in a year.

The rise in the valuation of buildings constructed was still greater, increasing 34.9 per cent, from $77,122,166 to $104,021,009.

JURY RETURNS SEALED VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF

Case of Trenton Bank Against Anna Mayers Woodhouse is Ended

OTHER COURT CASES

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 10—A sealed verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $4825.70 was returned in the case of The Broad Street National Bank of Trenton against Anna Mayers Woodhouse today in the Court of Common Pleas of Bucks county. On May 2 this year a verdict for the defendant was returned and a new trial was granted on August 7. This was an action in assumpsit in which the plaintiff was represented by Ross and Ross, Doylestown, and the defendant by Webster S. Achey, Doylestown.

In the case of Frank L. Tarantino, of Quakertown, against The Borough of Quakertown, an action in assumpsit, stipulations were agreed upon in open court and the court directed the case to be placed on the next argument list. L. L. Rubin, Bristol, represented the plaintiff and Gordon H. Luckenbill, Quakertown, the defendant.

Cases marked continued on the civil court list are as follows:

Roger Listorti vs. John P. Cantwell (trespass); Barney Longhitano vs. John P. Cantwell (trespass); Roger Listorti vs. Emma Cantwell (trespass); Barney Longhitano vs. Emma Cantwell (trespass); George B. TenEyck vs. Marian C. Beans (assumpsit); George Cowan vs. Frank C. Kuick (capias); Charles D. Lownes and Anna S. Lownes vs. Thornton Lewis (trespass); Lillian Brown and Samuel C. Brown vs. Charles R. Schweitzer (trespass); Gasper Gabron vs. Charles Bupp (trespass); Joseph Jakuski vs. Horace Fessmire and Herbert Fessmire (trespass); Martin F. Voyton and others vs. Margaret Katherine Garret (trespass); Harry Cadwallader, Jr., vs. James V. Iatesta (trespass); C. Orville Courtney vs. Charles F. Walton (trespass); John Komarnicki vs. Peter Logan (equity); Charles Minner vs. Roy M. Shirar and Bernice Shirar, his wife (equity).

Cases settled are as follows:

Stanley Pospisil vs. William W. Hall and Anna D. Hall, intervening defendant (trespass); Jessie H. Horne vs. Harry W. Hinkle, John C. Hinkle (trespass); Belden A. Linn vs. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Department of Highways (appeal); William John Crawford vs. William McCall and Mary Jane McCall, his wife (equity).

Trial started before Judge Hiram H. Keller in No. 1 court room in the case of Helen D. Nagel vs. Patsy DiSalvo, an action in trespass in which Wynne James, Jr., Doylestown, represents the plaintiff and W. S. Curtin, Morrisville, the defendant.

Judge Boyer charged the jury in the case of Richard W. Splane against Dominick Kay, landlord, and A. R. Atkinson constable.

Mr. Schmidt Goes To The Movies

(By "The Stroller")

A prominent Bristol florist never goes to the movies, but he became intrigued and enthused over advertisements and verbal accounts of the picture "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington."

"That's one picture I will see," he informed his family. "I'll go to the matinee on Tuesday." The day arrived, after a week or more of anticipation. Dressed in his Sunday best, he left home. Making his way to the Grand Theatre, the surprised manager asked of him, "What are you doing here?" knowing full well that this was an unusual honor, inasmuch as movies were not on the amusement list of the florist. "I want to see that picture," was the reply. For two hours he sat and witnessed comedies, news reels, and a long picture, all the time wondering when the anticipated film would appear. Near the end of the show a light dawned.

But when he reached home, his family was not surprised at his indignation, for the son who passed the Grand an hour previous, saw the family car parked there, and came home with the news, "My heavens, the boss is in the wrong movie."

British Freighter Sinks

LONDON, Jan. 10—Another British vessel, the 1985-ton freighter "Oak Grove," sank after an attack by German war planes off the coast of England today, as a check-up showed possible loss of 42 lives in a series of sinkings during the last 24 hours.

Mine explosions and aerial attacks were jointly responsible for new shipping losses.

The largest vessel to suffer was the 10,092-ton British liner "Dunbar Castle," which went down with a known loss of three lives, after striking a mine.

Survivors of the Oak Grove disaster were landed at an East coast port. Captain W. F. Falconer was listed among the missing.

Copenhagen, Jan. 10—During an apparent attack on a German airbase at Sylt, an airplane of unrevealed nationality dropped three bombs on the adjacent Island of Roemoe, early today.

A big air battle, it was believed, took place along the coast from Sylt to Heligoland, as gun-fire was heard during the night and most of the morning.

The bombing at Roemoe, which occurred at one a.m., caused no damage beyond smashing window panes of homes and public buildings.

Plan To Authorize Finnish Sales

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10—The war department is preparing to authorize American arms and munitions manufacturers to sell the Finnish government large quantities of modern military equipment, it was learned today.

A Finnish military mission now in the United States is preparing to purchase approximately $50,000,000 worth of guns, munitions and aircraft. This mission, it was revealed, also desires to buy at least 12 additional pursuit planes and attack bombers for delivery by April. The army possesses a number of exclusive designs.

STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF THE 1940 CAMPAIGN

Clinton Oblinger, New Hope, is Heard By Council of Republican Women

MRS. FREDERICK PREST

When those affiliated with the Lower Bucks County Council of Republican Women gathered here last evening for the monthly session, they were addressed by Clinton Oblinger, New Hope, who stressed the importance of the Republican campaign for 1940. The session was held in the Travel Club home.

Mr. Oblinger in telling of the need of unity for a successful campaign, mentioned that "109 voting precincts make up Bucks County, 67 counties make up the state of Pennsylvania; 48 states make up the union of the United States. And we need unity to make the 1940 campaign a success."

In touching on activities in Pennsylvania, the New Hope resident, told of the heavy load carried by the workers at Harrisburg, as they endeavor to bring "order out of chaos."

The women were reminded that the party is depending on them. "So much depends on the women," said Mr. Oblinger. "It ever seems that way. In Biblical days the women were the last to leave the Cross, and so it has been down through the ages; the women stick better than men. We are depending on you to make the campaign a success."

The report of the meetings of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, held in Harrisburg in November, as prepared by Mrs. Humbert Burton Powell, was read by Mrs. Minerva Epstein, who presided at the session last evening.

Mrs. Epstein's resignation which had been tendered was accepted, she being unable to serve due to other duties. Mrs. Harry Frederick, Croydon, vice president, has been chosen to succeed Mrs. Epstein as president.

When the business meeting opened Mrs. Earl Ford, Andalusia, lead in the salute to the flag. Plans were made for a Washington party on February 13th, the night of the scheduled February meeting.

Mrs. Amos Satterthwaite, Yardley, has been commended by the Bucks County Agricultural Extension Association, for the excellence of her report of Bucks County 4-H Club work.

Of the report of the fine work of the youth group, J. M. Fry, assistant director of extension of Pennsylvania State College, said:

"It was one of the finest reports I have heard in all of the hundreds of Extension meetings which I attend as part of my work."

"It showed Mrs. Satterthwaite's keen interest in her work and her thorough knowledge of all the phases of extension work being carried on in the county."

ENDORSE CAMPAIGN FOR SALVATION ARMY

Committee To Raise $200,000 Maintenance Fund Campaign in Phila. Area

BUCKS CO. COMMITTEE

Prominent Bucks County residents have volunteered to serve as an endorsing committee for the 1940 Greater Philadelphia Maintenance Fund Campaign of The Salvation Army, which opens tomorrow.

The campaign, which seeks $200,000 to maintain the work of The Salvation Army through its 22 agencies in Philadelphia, Bucks, Montgomery, Delaware and Chester counties, will open with a luncheon at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, at which Bucks county residents will be among the 1,000 volunteer workers attending.

The principal speaker will be the Rev. Dr. Rex Stowers Clements, Minister of the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. He and other speakers will outline the work of The Salvation Army and urge wide public response to the appeal, which will continue until February 29th.

Chairman of the Bucks County Division of the 1940 Campaign is Wallace G. Murfitt, of Newtown, who served in the same capacity last year. Mr. Murfitt, a member of the School Board in Newtown Borough for many years, is an official of the Philadelphia Gas Works.

His family has lived in Bucks County since 1716 and he has long been interested in the work of The Salvation Army. He was vice-chairman of the 1936 campaign. Mr. Murfitt has served as an officer of various gas companies in this area and in the coal regions.

Richard Hay Woolsey, widely-known attorney, is general chairman of the 1940 Maintenance Fund Campaign, and in announcing the membership of the Bucks County Endorsing Committee, he made an urgent appeal to all Bucks County residents to give wholehearted support to the work of The Salvation Army.

"For sixty years, The Salvation Army has been serving Greater Philadelphia through its aid to the less fortunate," Mr. Woolsey said. "It is more than an individual agency, it is a federation of social work and religious agencies, and it meets the needs of every age—from childhood to the sunset years of life."

"When the people of the Philadelphia area realize the great amount of work The Salvation Army does in aiding the needy, in providing homes for orphaned children, for homeless men, for unwed mothers, and in guiding the character of young boys and girls, I am confident they will answer the

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

The Great McNutt Flop

Washington, Jan. 9—PROBABLY the most miserable politician of the moment is Mr. Paul V. McNutt, the vibrant Indiana gentleman who for nearly two years now has been in hot pursuit of the Democratic 1940 Presidential nomination. The painful situation in which Mr. McNutt finds himself is, in part, due to his presuming too much upon White House support—although that is not all the story.

WHEN the amount of time, labor and money expended upon the McNutt candidacy is considered, the completeness with which it has been scuttled is really remarkable. The campaign will be kept up to the end, but it has become more of a face-saving gesture than anything else. And Mr. McNutt's more acute friends know he has "shot his bolt." Of course, Mr. McNutt himself is much too shrewd a fellow not to know what has happened to him and who made it happen. The answer to the last question clearly and unmistakably is Franklin D. Roosevelt. There motion. It is possible that Mr. McNutt may recover sufficiently to become a Vice-Presidential possibility in the convention, but that chance is exceedingly remote.

THE 1940 CENSUS

It might be thought that census figures would make about the dullest reading in the world, but in the digest of the figures obtained by the United States decennial nose-counting lies a fascinating history of the nation, its people, its occupations, its health, and numerous other items.

The 1940 census is already underway. Now in progress is the check up of business and industry. The population count will be taken in March. When all the work is done, the Federal government will have the most exhaustive compilation of information ever assembled by a nation concerning its own affairs.

The censuses, taken every ten years, are links in a chain which bind the present to the past and permit auguries of the future. They disclose the nation's industrial growth, its changing manners, its transportation progress, its taste in food, tobacco and drinks, and a thousand and one things that may be known roughly but not as a coordinated whole.

Such a record is invaluable. To meet the future wisely, there must be definite information on the extent and classification of unemployment, on the decreasing birth rate and the saving of lives through medicine and surgery, between them responsible for the shift in the ratio between the young and the old.

So give the census-taker a break. His is an onerous task but an essential one, and all persons can afford to suffer a few moments of annoyance to insure an accurate survey of the nation in this year of 1940.

THOSE DISCREDITED STARS

Take it or leave it, as you like, but the astrologers are at it again. In France they predict that the Allies will win the war by the end of 1940 and that at least one of Europe's leaders will die violently during the year. French newspapers give prominence to such predictions.

Typical was the comment of "Madame F.," who said Fuehrer Adolf Hitler would die "like Robespierre," who was guillotined, and that the war would not end in bloody battles but would be won through economic means.

"Madame N." predicted two assassinations in "neighboring countries," but said they should not distract the Allies.

Other mediums said the war would last 420 days, would be extended to the Balkans, would find Belgium joining the Allies after an attack by Germany, would see the end of the Rome-Berlin axis and finally would result in war between Germany and Russia.

But remember—if you decide to take it—that these wise birds made a pretty sad mess of their prophecies of last year's events.

The Nation's Business Magazine says that in Germany the owner of a dog must kill out five government forms to get his dog's meat, which is rather surprising in view of the reports that all traces of democracy have been wiped out in that troubled land.

Dispatches from Copenhagen say Stalin is sending his personal friends to take charge of the fighting in Finland, but it is hard to believe that even a Stalin would treat a personal friend like that.

What's become of Tom Mooney since California decided not to keep him in prison for the publicity?

"RED EARTH" by TOM CILL

CHAPTER XXXI

The night was a night of restless winds and scudding clouds that half concealed a full moon rising over the desert. It was already high when a rider tethered his horse just beyond the bend in the road below the hacienda and moved noiselessly to where the great iron gate loomed.

There Bodine halted—almost eleven. No sign of a vaquero. The moonlight cast deep shadows across the winding road, and still watchful he took a step forward, then something white glimmered beyond the gate, and Lola ran to his side, expectant but half afraid.

Bodine took her hand. "You're sure this is wise, my coming here?" he asked.

"I'm not sure of anything," she answered. "I only know I need you."

"The guards?"

"I told them two of the horses had broken into Aunt Ines' garden. The vaqueros are looking for them now." Languorously she pulled him through the narrowly opened gate. "But they may be back any minute. We'd better go nearer the house."

In silence he slipped his arm through hers, and keeping well in the shadow of the eucalyptus they moved toward the hacienda.

She was frightened no longer now, the thrill and excitement of this clandestine meeting, the knowledge that Bodine was here by her side, brought a sense of almost physical release. Reluctant though he had been to come, here was one at least who would help her, and almost as a child might she walked beside him as they skirted the hacienda.

LOOKING FORWARD

By Franklyn Waltman
Publicity Director, Republican National Committee

Postmaster General James A. Farley's annual report for the year ending last June 30 has just come to hand during all of that period we have had and, as we expected, it contains Jim's a three-cent rate for non-local first class mail, as compared with a two-cent first class postage rate prior to This time Jim says he is reporting his "surplus" in six years.

Well, let's see about that! The report states that the Post Office Department in the year which ended last June 30 spent $784,646,938.14 and that its revenue totaled $745,955,075.24, which, as we figure, leaves a deficit of $38,691,862.90. How can Jim Farley then claim a surplus of $14,547,795.34 as he does? Ah! that is where the sleight of hand, the legerdemain of New Deal bookkeeping comes in.

From his $38,691,862.90 deficit, Jim Farley subtracts $53,239,655.20 which he calls "non-postal items." Leaving, presto, a surplus of $14,547,795.34. Included as "non-postal items" are the cost of handling free or franked mail—which we shall discuss by a moment—and subsidies. Mr. Farley just tosses those costs out of the window, dusts his hand and, with a big smile, claims a "surplus." Indeed, his press agents have been telling Washington newsmen he is the only Postmaster General who ever operated the Post Office Department without a deficit.

The truth of the matter is that, leaving aside this book-keeping device of deducting so-called "non-postal items," the Post Office Department has had a deficit ranging from $38,000,000

Department in many years prior to the Great Depression was substantially less than the actual deficit in any year under Mr. Farley. This business of doctoring up the books to reduce or wipe out the deficit did not commence until 1932 but Mr. Farley's predecessor never stooped to use a book-keeping device to deceive the country as to the true state of Post Office Department finances.

So much for Jim Farley, the great businessman! But there is one record set up by the Post Office Department in the last fiscal year which Mr. Farley does not boast about—and it fits in, too, with the juggling of figures to cover up his deficit. It is amount of franked mail handled by the Post Office Department for the remainder of the Executive Branch of the Government.

According to the Farley report, the Executive departments and establishments of the Government, exclusive of the Post Office Department, in the last fiscal year franked—sent free through the mails—970,784,376 pieces of mail, weighing 93,474,960 pounds, which at the usual rates of postage would have cost $38,231,125. This, incidentally, is the principal item in the "non-postal items" which Mr. Farley deducts from his expenditures to get his "surplus."

In other words, the cost at regular postal rates for the Federal Government's mail—exclusive of the Post Office Department and members of Congress—in the last fiscal year was more than $38,000,000—the largest sum for that purpose in the history of the government and MORE THAN FOUR TIMES THE COST IN THE LAST FULL YEAR OF THE HOOVER ADMINISTRATION.

Indeed, we venture the statement that most of the increase has resulted from the work of hundreds of propagandists employed by the New Deal and paid by taxpayers' money—including that postage bill. Congress last year undertook to curb that flow of propaganda, which added so much to postal costs, by forbidding the mailing of such material to anyone who did not specifically request it. The New Deal agencies through postal cards undertook what amounted to a selling campaign to get requests for their material. Some agencies apparently are ignoring the law, for newspaper editors have told us they are still receiving material which they did not request.

The irony of the whole thing is that the more franked mail the New Deal departments and agencies send out, the more Jim Farley will be able to deduct from his expenses—although it will cost more—and the bigger the "surplus" he will undertake to demonstrate through his business efficiency.

Except for the fact that this money was being sweated out of people who need it for the necessities of life, it would be a big laugh.

TWO ROUGH BOYS TO WRESTLE IN ARENA
TRENTON, Jan. 10—Two of the roughest and roughest muscle-massagers in the ancient mat sport are slated to tangle tonight at the Trenton Arena in a one fall to a finish match. Promoter Johnny Ipp has signed Bob Wagner, brawny and off-color Oregon wrestler to oppose Joe Cox, the Missouri Dynamiter, and a Pier Six brawny should engage when this pair tangles.
Both men have had stormy careers on the local mat although Cox has been around longer than Wagner. Joe has faced every wrestler of renown at the Arena and has more than held his own. The fans know exactly what Joe is capable of doing and they have seen him handle the mat ruffians and

I resolve to read, not merely the headlines, but the full story behind them. Only in this way can I be sure to obtain complete, objective information about the changing world I live in and am a part of.
I resolve to read the editorials, which interpret the news and give a reasoned basis for thought about it. In this way I can create an attitude about life in my own country, and abroad, which may develop into a philosophy.
I resolve to read the advertisements, which—as faithfully as the headlines—announce worth-while new developments in the world of industry, of transportation and of commerce.... The 'clean' wrestlers and he takes it in stride.

The reason for Joe's popularity is that he is an action provider every moment that he is in the ring and that is what the wrestling fans like.

They will probably be lending Joe all sorts of vocal support when he jousts with Wagner tonight and that will be music to Joe's ears.

Wagner is a tough nut to crack as he has demonstrated on various occasions at the Arena. Bob pulls almost every dirty trick in the book when he is wrestling and last week gave Abe Coleman and referee Fiocco an awful mauling before being disqualified for his rowdy tactics.

A corking supporting card will precede the main event. Coleman, diminutive but sturdy Hebrew, will face a tartar in Lou Plummer, veteran wrestler. An outstanding bout will mark the return to the local wars of Bibber McCoy, the poly Boston strong boy. He also faces the toughest sort of opposition in Tom Casey of the Casey clan of Ireland. Maurice LaChapelle, the quick and nimble French-Hungarian, meets Joe Maynard and Frank Judson wrestling coach at Harvard, meets Allan Eustace.

MORRISVILLE RALLIES TO DOWN SOUTHAMPTON, 21-12

MORRISVILLE, Jan. 10—The Morrisville Bulldogs had to stage a last ditch rally to thwart the advances of a persistent Southampton quintet and thereby win their opening tilt of the 1940 LBCL court season here last night, 21-12.

FIRST CHOICE FOR READING

BETHLEHEM, Pa.—(INS)—Alone on a desert island and limited to the reading of 10 books, Librarian Howard S. Leach, Lehigh University, would combine Defoe's "Robinson Crusoe" and the current Boy Scout handbook as his first choices, according to the student newspaper. Among Leach's other choices would be the Bible and a volume of Shakespeare.

FALLS WINS, 29-27

ALLEGHENY, N. J., Jan. 10—Before a packed house, the Fallsington Falcons won a thrill-packed tilt from the Allentown, New Jersey, high school quintet in the second overtime period by a 29-27 count, here last night.

beginning the final campaign of the current season. The boys are really putting them in there and some nice scores were rolled during the past few days. Wayne Milnor, stellar lead-off man for Asco and the Auto Boys, rolled two nice series. Your Tattler predicted high scoring during this half and it looks as if his outlook was about right.

Manager O'Boyle informs this column that he is starting a Mixed Doubles League. This league will be run on a handicap basis and prizes will be awarded to the winners. He expects to enroll approximately 12 teams and it will take about eleven weeks to complete the schedule. All bowlers interested please get in touch with Mr. O'Boyle before January 14th. These matches will be rolled on Sunday evenings.

Two new clubs were added to the Industrial League, Voltz Texaco and Coffey Juniors. The Ford Agency has entered a team in the National League to take Fleetwings' place, and Felix's Cafeteria has filled in the vacancy left by Amoco.

We understand by the papers that Andy Jackson made an 7-10 split. Nice going, Andy. We also noticed that Herb Yates had a high scoring series to his credit last week. Never mind, Herbie, we all have our ups and downs.

Remember, folks, we'll be back again next week with a few more choice morsels of bowling gossip, and until that time keep plugging away—those splits will turn into strikes by and by.

ON THE SCREENS*BRISTOL THEATRE

Frank Capra's most recent honor, since winning for the third time an Academy Award with his production of "You Can't Take It With You," was received during filming of his Columbia romantic drama, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," which also co-stars Jean Arthur and James Stewart at the Bristol Theatre. Capra's other prize-winning films were "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" and "It Happened One Night."

In a letter received from Edward W. France, president of the Boy Rangers of America, headquarters in New York City, the prize-winning Columbia director was notified that he had been made an honorary member of the organization.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By Howard L. Zapp, Th. M.)

Holy Spirit, help us so to live this day that the dust of the world may not obscure our vision of God, that the noise of the world may not shut out His voice, and that He may be as real to us as a parent is real to a child.—Amen.

starring Richard Arlen and Andy Devine, comes today to the Grand Theatre.

In the supporting cast are Beverly Roberts, Samuel S. Hinds, Lupita Tovar and Lou Merrill.

Said to be alive with suspense and thrilling dramatic moments, "Tropic Fury" reveals a chapter in the plantation strife behind a great rubber monopoly, a chapter containing many situations declared to form a new premise for action entertainment.

POINTERS GIVEN FOR BUYING IN WINTER WHITE GOODS SALES

By Miss Edna Stephany

(Home Economics Representative)

The beginning of a new year always brings with it our annual resolutions to do better, and just as regularly there appears the sheaf of bills accumulated during the gay holiday season. Still another tradition at this time of year is the January white sales.

If you plan to restock your supply of towels during these sales, here are some points to remember. Linen towels or either huck or damask weave absorb water rapidly and dry with equal rapidity. They are smooth to the touch, easy to launder, and lovely to look at. However, linen is more expensive than cotton huck or terry cloth. Cotton huck towels shed lint with wear, become gray and stained with use, but are cheaper. If made of soft spun woven material without dressing, cotton towels give good service for the cost.

Turkish or bath towels are usually

POSIES GIVE ROMANTIC TOUCH TO FORMAL FROCKS

One of the most charming old customs to be revived this season is that of wearing real flowers to dress up evening, daytime and sports clothes. Anne Shirley, center, has selected a crown of curly and purple violets to wear at parties. The cluster of violets makes a beautiful "top-knot" for her formal hair arrangement, and matches her purple crepe frock, amethyst heart pendant and amethyst earrings. The model, in silver cellophane and net dancing frock, left, with tiny waist and bouffant skirt, is wearing a headress of rubrum lilies, orchids or gardenias with a matching bracelet corsage. The photograph, right, shows a bonnet headdress. It is made of red roses, carnation and gladiola petals, and with it goes an old-fashioned bouquet with ribbon streamers. This is the perfect complement to the frock of hunter's green taffeta, with bustle bow and panel of red.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By CORA ANTHONY
Director of A&P Kitchen

EAT is usually the food which gets budgets into trouble but at present all are reasonable in price. Outstanding values are to be found in poultry, smoked and fresh pork, lamb and forecasts cuts of beef. Rounds and loins of beef and veal cost more but are not expensive.

Food prices continue to be most attractive with ample supplies coming to market in spite of the continued cold. Butter is somewhat higher but still under average winter prices.

General supplies of green vegetables from California, Texas, Florida, Cuba and Puerto Rico are available at reasonable cost. Citrus fruits and apples are the chief fruits in market and all are cheap.

The semi-annual inspection of Wright revealed that over the 10-year school and public buildings was also period the average cruising speed of inaugurated by Miller. The fire department now drills twice each year the 200 miles per hour and that passenger school children in addition to the regular drills conducted by the teachers. An inspection was made during Fire Prevention Week in 1939 of five buildings in the presence of a State Inspector and not one hazard was found. In slightly over a minute, 650 students were dismissed.

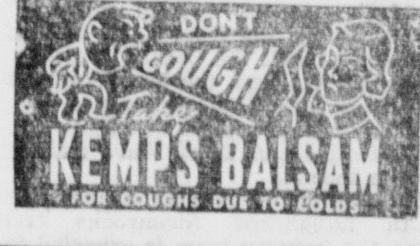

Union Fire Company recently requested Common Council for permission to purchase a new booster engine, declaring the chemical truck, now 15 years old, obsolete. Repairs would have cost one-third of a new apparatus, says Miller, but the request was denied by Council.

Under Chief Reed, of Capitol View, Morrisville residents also received excellent protection from fire.
